Source: Chris Wedel/Android CentralBest answer: No, as of now, there are no promo codes available for Disney+. However, some great deals are going on right now that can get you discounts on a subscription. With so many streaming services out there and each one having content unique to their service, it's not hard to find yourself with a few different subscriptions — and that means the dollars add up pretty quick. So finding ways to save a buck here and there is a great way to help out the budget while still getting the content you want, and Disney+ is going to have some content you will likely want. As it stands now, Disney isn't offering any promo codes. However, there are a few different ways to get yourself a discount on your subscription. Can you watch me now? If you are a Verizon customer, then you might have the best deal of all. As the exclusive wireless partner for Disney+, it's giving customers a free year of Disney's new streaming service. It's important to ensure you have the right Verizon plan so that your Disney+ streaming comes through without a hitch. Getting the deals While it may not be an outright discount, there is a bundle for $12.99 that gets you Disney+, Hulu, and ESPN+ together. With this package, you get to catch all your favorite Disney content from Pixar, Marvel, Star Wars, NatGeo, and more as well as great shows on Hulu, and all the sports you could want from ESPN. If you were to purchase each of these services separately, you'd be paying about $18. Also, if you know that you are going to love Disney+ for at least a year, then you can pay for an annual subscription for $70 — which breaks down to $5.83 per month. Disney has a lot to offer on its new streaming service, from classics like Snow White and Mary Poppins to new favorites Toy Story and Coco. Aside from the prominent Disney shows, there is also going to be original content made only available on Disney+, including shows like the Mandalorian, Loki, Monsters at Work, Magic of the Animal Kingdom, and so much more. Best of all: signing up gets you a seven-day free trial so you can test the service before committing to a payment plan. Streaming all the livelong day Disney+ is a great deal on its own, but when you compare it to other streaming services and what Disney has to offer, it's a great deal in general. We may earn a commission for purchases using our links. Learn more. It's late at night, it's raining, and you can't find a cab. To make matters worse, when you open your Uber app, you're faced with severely inflated surge prices. Fortunately, there are ways to make the ride-sharing service more affordable, even at peak hours (think: 12:01 a.m. on New Year's Day). Uber is the largest and oldest of the ride-sharing apps, with operations in more than 600 cities worldwide. And while most Uber promo codes are offered only to first-time users, there are a few ways existing Uber customers can enjoy free or steeply discounted rides. Officially, Uber only offers promo codes to new users. If this applies to you, you're in luck. When scheduling your first ride, just make sure you've entered — and received credit for — your new user promo code. The code changes often, so find the most current iteration at uber.com/promo. To enter the code, tap the "Payment" menu item within the Uber app, and then "Add Promo/Gift Code." After submitting, the free credit will appear on your account, usually up to $15. Existing users can continue to earn Uber promo codes by referring new users to the service. Find your individual Uber referral code (which you can also personalize) under the Promotions section of the mobile app, as well as on the Uber website. The free rides, which will cover trips up to $10, don't appear immediately — so be sure to get your friends and family to sign up in advance. If you're looking for a ride with fellow passengers who don't have Uber, have them download the app and activate the introductory free ride promo code. (Better yet, ask that friend to sign up using your unique referral code, too.) That first ride credit has no limitations on the number of passengers, so hop in and take advantage of the discounted drive. No, this is not an Uber promo code. But just because you're not a new Uber user, doesn't mean you're out of options. Try downloading a rival ride-sharing app, like Lyft or Sidecar, and activate their new user promo codes. At the time of publication, for example, Lyft's promo codes for first-time riders include a $20 credit valid for $2 per ride for 10 rides; a $10 credit for $5 per two rides; or a $9 credit split evenly between three rides. If you frequently find yourself loading up the Uber app, you may want to consider applying for a new credit card. Through Uber's rewards system, which launched in 2017, visa cardholders who opt-in and have the card saved in their Uber account can collect ride credits simply by shopping a partner stores and chains like Regal Cinemas and Dunkin' Donuts. And if you've committed to the American Express Platinum Card (and it's $550 annual fee), you'll enjoy $15 in Uber credit every month, with a bonus $35 in December.
